

Fairs' Short Length Sale

Running through our stock preparatory to taking invoice, we find many short lengths in Silks, Velvets, Woolen Dress Goods, White Goods, Embroideries, Ribbons, etc., which we desire to turn into cash at once. To do this means a sacrifice. This we are going to stand. What we lose means a gain to you.

Fairs' Short Length Ribbons

Too varied an assortment to go into detail. Many that are fine in quality and high in price go into this lot. Just the kind for the hair and neck. Come and look through them. Might interest you.

Fairs' Short Length Woolens

These will accumulate in any stock. We have them and they must go at a loss. Much better for children than Gingham, and about as cheap in price. We know that it will pay any lady to come and look through them. COST NOT CONSIDERED. We shall expect you.

Fairs' Short Length Embroideries

Our new spring Embroideries will soon be in. We want room for them. This means that our present stock of short lengths must move. Many of these lengths are suitable for children's wear. Corset covers, etc., run from about 1 to 7 yards in a piece. Take a close look at these. We are satisfied you will pronounce them bargains.

Besides these few specials we find through our entire stock some odds and ends in Men's Clothing, Shoes, Ladies' Jackets, Millinery, Comforts and Blankets. We will close out at greatly reduced figures. If it's real bargains you want, come to us. If we can't convince you that it's merchandise away under the regular price and don't sell to you, we will certainly appreciate your kindness in looking through.

Mrs. Fannie Wilkins, wife of S. J. Wilkins, died at her residence in Norman, Ok., on the 9th inst., after several months suffering from a paralytic attack. After funeral services at the Presbyterian church, her remains were interred in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Wilkins was the daughter of the late Samuel Houston, of Hartford, and the widow of the late Anderson Barnes, Beaver Dam.

A severe storm passed through the county Monday evening between 5 and 6 o'clock. The storm was the most severe since the late fall. Several houses were partially roofed and the school building lifted from its foundation and turned partially around. It passed on to Beaver Dam where only slight damage was done to several buildings. Mr. F. O. Austin wind mill to his hotel was blown down.

Eq. Nicholas Barras, who was taken to the Gray Street Infirmary at Louisville a few weeks ago, to be treated for an acute attack of stomach trouble, has taken a relapse and is in a serious condition. His son, Mr. E. G. Barras, Circuit Court Clerk, was summoned to his bedside yesterday morning. Eq. Barras has expressed a desire to be brought back to his home at Taylor Mines, but his condition is such that it is not thought to be advisable.

The Ohio County Anti-Saloon League met in the Baptist church here last Saturday. The meeting was well attended and a great deal of interest was manifested. It was decided to raise a fund at once to push the work of temperance in our county and see that our laws in regard to the illegal sale of liquors are respected. This league in the State of Ohio recently demonstrated the ability to elect clean men to office over rum and bossism combined. Dr. J. D. Maddox, President, and G. B. Likens, Secretary, of the county organization.

The party given at the residence of Mr. S. J. Hawkins last Friday night, in honor of Miss Mattie Mosley was quite an enjoyable affair. Mr. Potter Dead. Mr. Jesse Potter died at his residence in Hartford last Friday morning at 1:15 o'clock. He had been ill for some time and his death was not unexpected. He was born in Shelby county, Ky., January 24, 1829, and was therefore nearly 77 years old. He had been a resident of Hartford for 40 years. On December 21, 1884, he was married to Miss Lydia Hendricks, with whom he lived happily until he died. He was converted and joined the church under the ministry of Rev. B. A. Candiff, more than 30 years ago.

His funeral was held at the Methodist church at 2 o'clock on Saturday, January 13, Rev. J. A. Lewis conducting the services, after which his remains were interred at Oakwood. It has often been said that he was "a faithful christian, strictly honest, liberal to the poor, and that he loved the right." What better epitaph could be written about his tomb?

A. V. Leach in Trouble. The crime of forgery is becoming more frequent in Ohio county as time goes by. A. V. Leach, son of George Leach, of Prentiss, a school teacher, came to Hartford last Friday with a note for $250 drawn in favor of the Peoples' Bank of Beaver Dam and he went to County Superintendent of schools, J. M. DeWeese and asked him to sign it as a duress, which Mr. DeWeese declined to do. The next he heard of the note was when it was presented to the Peoples' Bank with Superintendent J. M. DeWeese, Judge W. B. Taylor and County Court Clerk W. S. Tinsley's names signed as sureties. In the meantime the suspicions of W. A. Rone, cashier, were aroused and on investigation it was ascertained that neither of the above named parties had signed their names to the note, and he refused to make the loan.

Prior to this, said A. V. Leach had secured a loan of $70 from the Peoples' Bank with Silas Stevens and Rev. Geo. W. Gordon as sureties. On communicating with Messrs. Stevens and Gordon it was ascertained that the $70 note was likewise a forgery. As soon as this was known Mr. Rone, in company with J. P. Stevens, marshal of Beaver Dam, went to see Leach at his home and he accompanied them to Beaver Dam, where a relative of the young man paid the $70 note and Leach was permitted to go.

Leach had only recently completed a school and had contracted to teach another, but it is not probable that he will do any more teaching in this county soon, as the Superintendent, Mr. DeWeese, says he will take steps at once to revoke his certificate.

It is said that Leach's forgery stands because in a small way several months since, but owing to his position and the high standing of his immediate relatives the matter was not generally known.

The Original. Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. Spilled Her Beauty. Harriet Howard, of W. 34th St., New York, at one time had her beauty spoiled with skin trouble. She writes: "I had Salt Rheum or Eczema for years, but nothing would cure it, until I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve." A quick and sure healer for cuts, burns and sores. 25c at J. H. Williams' drug store. m

A Pleasant Evening. Beds, Ky., Jan. 14.—It was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Bennett, of Beds, on the evening of Jan. 13, a birthday party was given in honor of their youngest daughter, Miss Ethyl. Quite a pleasant time was spent in various games, after which all partook of delightful refreshments, music interspersing the program.

Those present were: Misses Rowena Hudson, Mary Parks, Ethyl Bennett, Solm Dodson, Messrs. Marvin Park, Sam Ellis, Herbert Shover, Clarence Shown, Dr. Paul Hays, of Denver, Col., Dr. S. W. Crowe, Mesdames Bernyce Dodson and Minnie Rowan. X

In the Polar Night. The power of the eye to adjust itself to varying intensities of light is illustrated by Dr. Nansen's account of his experience in gradually raising the expedition in the winter of 1895-96. He was determined to keep a continuous thermometric record during the months of darkness, and whenever the moon was above the horizon he and his assistants found no difficulty in reading the instruments, which were placed in the crow's nest of the ship's mast. But at the time of new moon they had only starlight, because they could not afford to use the oil needed for an outdoor lamp. Yet gradually their eyes became so well trained to see in the dark that they could read the figures on the thermometer scale even in the absence of the moon.

Expressive Slang. Once in awhile a bit of slang is so expressive that it becomes incorporated into the language as an allowable idiom. One of the most striking of these is "making good." It has come to have not simply a general but a specific meaning. It illustrates the idea of competition; it indicates that under intense modern methods it is only he who succeeds that can, in the long run, win recognition. Recommendations, testimonials, requests for eminent men, all fall before the stern decree that you must "make good."—Success Magazine.

His Other Fall. In the memoirs of Dr. Thomas W. Evans appears this anecdote of the court of Emperor Napoleon III. in Paris: "At a ball given at the Tuilleries a general, slipping on the polished floor, fell at the emperor's feet, pulling down with him his partner. 'Madame,' said the emperor, assisting the lady to rise, 'this is the second time General—has fallen in my presence. The first time was at Solferino.'"

Just a Gentle One. The Mau-A fortune teller predicted that I would be lucky in love. The Maid (demurely)—And the same prediction precisely was made about me. Do you still think, Henry, that we were made for each other?—Puck.

Getting to It. Anxious Mother—Has Mr. Bashful proposed yet? Daughter—Not exactly, but last evening when I was holding a check on which Mr. Bashful wanted to the piano and sang "Would I Were a Boy Again."

Rev. L. W. Tichenor, in an impressive manner, spoke the words that made the two hearts beat as one. Their many friends extend congratulations.

Roy Tichenor is preparing to build a nice dwelling home here in the near future.

Another Good Man Gone Wrong. He neglected to take Foley's Kidney Cure at the first signs of kidney trouble, hoping it would wear away, and he was soon a victim of Bright's disease. There is danger in delay, but if Foley's Kidney Cure is taken at once the symptoms will disappear, the kidneys are strengthened and you are soon sound and well. A. R. Bass, of Morgantown, Ind., had to get up ten or twelve times in the night, and had a severe backache and pains in the kidneys and was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure. Sold by J. H. Williams.
